or six hundred lawyers that hang out their shingles, only some eight or ten are ever heard of outside of their own offices. And yet, the profession is "so genteel" that foolish old fathers and pridestuffed mannas would actually prefer having their sons starve and mould in this business than become useful and wealthy in any other.

The idea that these "sucking Ciceros" should ever descend, or rather ascend, to "toil and hard hands," is so perfectly preposterous that one would run some risk of tasting leather if he should ever think of hinting it. Labor is considered less genteel than the lawyer's green bag—the handle of the plough less dignified than the yard-stick. Unfortunate infatuation! Not dignified?

There is no calling under heaven half so ennobling as that of the farmer. The patriarch of the field, as he sits beside the cottage door when his daily toil is over, feels an inward calm never known in the kalls of a large the cottage door when his daily toil is over, feels an inward calm never known in the kalls of the farmer. the cottage door when his daily toil is over, feels an inward calm never known in the halls of pride or the Court of Appeals. Where else can we look but to the productions of the soil for safety of investment and for an ample return? In commercial speculations all is chance and uncertainty, change and fluctuation, rise and fall. In mercantile life scarcely one in ten can avoid even bankruptey. But with the tiller of the soil how different. As long as God is good and nature punein ten can avoid even bankruptey. But with the tiller of the soil how different. As long as God is good and nature pune-tual, so long is he insured a life of plenty, happiness and health.

Is the Great Eastern a Failure? The special correspondent of the London Telegraph, who was on board the Great Eastern at the time of the explosion, closes his report with the follow-

Let me conclude by expressing my conscientious belief that the Great East-ern is the finest ship in the world, and that she is the most magnificent example of marine architecture possessed by this or any other country. At the same time, I believed that her immense size has rend-crea her, and will render her administratively and nechanically, but not nautically normanageable. I think that the admirable Captain Harrison can manage this chip and work her—as a ship—as cash; as one can manage attained steed; but I am afraid there will always be some "hitch" about the Great Eastern. To day it is forward: to-morrow it may be aft .-There are too many furnace-fed and explosion-breeding machines undermining her. The best machinery will get out of gear; 'neglect' and 'inadvertence' are human foibles; but there is at least, help —there are, at least remedies against their effects on dry land. A ship may neither rock nor pitch, and may go at a very speedy rate indeed; but she also may blow up some day, bodily, with all hands on board.

HOME MANUFACTURED FOREIGN CORRESPOND ENCE .- The Brooklyn Engle says :

It is well known that a majority of the New York papers publish a manufactured European correspondence made up in their own offices. The Herald publishes a column of matter purporting to be a Paris letter, which is an insult to the public to attempt to impose upon its readers. It is made up of seraps from English papers pasted together in the most clumsy manner. The account of the manner in which the Emperor and Empress of the French agend their time at Sovour, which we copied yesterday from the correspondence of an English paper, received by the steamer Persia, is given is this letter of the Herald, eschotias, as the original production of a Paris correspondent; the experiment of watering the street by hydrochloric acid, which we copy to-day from an English paper, appears in the same connection and in the same words; an extract is stolen from an article in the Journal des Debate on the commerce of Italy, a translation of which we extract from the European Times. In fact, the whole letter is a transparent tissue of stolen material which the thief did not take the trouble te alter or disguise.

THE LOST BALLOONISTS .- The telegraph yes terday announced the safety of La Mountain and Haddock, the balloonists, who were supposed to have perished. The following additional particular lars have been received :

La Mountain and Haddock are safe at Ottawa (Bytown) in Canada. They landed about 150 miles North of Ottawa in the great Canadian wilderness, at a point about 50 miles West of Lake St. John, the head of the Saguenay rivor, and about milway between the St. Lawrence river and James' bay. The place is about 300 miles North of Watertown, so that they must hafe had a Northerly current. This disproves the story of the balloon having been seen 50 miles South-west of Watertown, over St. Lawrence county, unless the current suddenly changed. La Mountain telegraphs that he has lost everything. They were fortunately discovered by Mr. Cameron, who was looking for timber, probably along the head waters of the Gatineau river. Indian guides were found, who brought them down to Ottawa in bark canoes. They were less than five hours in the air, found, who brought them down to Ottawa in bark canoes. They were less than five hours in the air, and must have landed about 10 o'clock at night, having traveled at the rate of a mile a minute, the balloon being from four to five miles from the earth. This extraordinary voyage due North strikes a hard blow at the favorite theory of a steady easterly current in the upper strata of the atmosphere. Ten hours further travel in their direction would have brought them to the point where Sir John Franklin is supposed to have per-

Vera Cruz dates are to the 25th, and City of Mexico to the 23d. A conspiracy among the leading officers of Miramon's army had been discovered, the object of which was to overthrow Miramon and recognize the Liberal Government. It was divulged the day before it was to have been executed. At Vera Cruz active preparations are being made for a siege upon Jalapa, Cordova and the Capitol. Corja's division was entirely routed, on the 12th by the Liberals at Oajaca, a large number of prisoners were taken, but pardoned. Coronada's expedition to Tegic had taken 600 of the Church party prisoners. Morena and others had been shot.

DURING THE SUMMER that has just passed away, thousands of sufferers from dysentery and diar-rhoen have been relieved by the use of Hoster-ten's Bittens, a medicine which is evidently des-TER'S BITTERS, a medicine which is evidently destined to maintain a permanet place in the public estimation. Billious diarrhoea is one of those discusses which buffles the skill of the physician.—
The medicine they administer to act upon the bowels never seems to reach the source of the evil. The difficulty is to get a remedy that will reach all the digestive organs, and give them simultaneously a rush of vigor, to rid them simultaneously a rush of vigor, to rid them selves of this disease. This problem is solved by the Bitters, which never fails to conquer the most stubborn cases. It is only fair to say, that during the season just clessed, the medicine has achieved more cures than any other ever presented to the public. ures than any other ever presented to the public and during the fall, which that terrible scourge the fever and ague is so prevalent, the Bitters wigain fresh fame.

Washington, Oct. 8.—Colonel Sumner, "Editor Free."—While on board of GEORGIA "EDITOR FREE."—While on board of one of the splendid steamers which ply between Buffalo and Chicago, the fuz on our chin grew rather longer than was agreeable, and we repaired to the barber's shop on board, to have it taken off. The fellow did it up in first rate style. After he had combed and offed our head, brushed our clothes and sileked us up fine, we felt gratified, pulled out a dime, and proffered it to him as a reward for his services. He drew himself up with considerable pomposity. "Ignderstood," said he, "dat you is an editor?" "Well, what of that?" said we, "We never charge editors nuffin," said he. "But my woolly friend," said we, "there are a good many editors travelling now-a-days, and many editors travelling now-a-days, and such liberality on your part will prove a ruinous business."
